WEEKEND PLANS INCLUDE GALA EVENING OF FUN

"Holydays on Review" is the tentative title which is being planned in connection with the visit of thirty top secretaries, members of the United Nations Secretariat, and students from the United Nations Secretariat, and 200 U.S. secretaries, have been invited to spend the weekend of February 14-16 on the Mount Holyoke campus. Plans for the United Nations weekend are being completed by the Student Government Association, the United Nations Club and Student Government Association.

We want all-campus support for the event," stated Evelyn Grous, chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment. Evelyn pointed out that the student body is being asked to set aside the time for the gala evening for the college as a whole.

Plans are under way to incorporate the highlights of student efforts in the gala evening. Students will probably include scenes from recent reviews and musicals, operettas, variety shows, and the Senior shows. Groups on campus, such as the Mount Holyoke Players and the Varsity will be invited to provide a gala evening for the college as a whole.

There will be no classes Tuesday, January 21.

"I was impressed by the surprising degree of scholarship at the "Pratt Auditorium Conference," said Anna "Zip" David, and Professor of English. "The students were very interested in the problem of how to present the beauty of the French literature to our own students.

Among the most important resolutions which were passed by the Conference were:

1. The organization of the National Conferences on literature whose purpose is to a) publicize the work of the Conference; b) draft a constitution; c) call the first Conference; and all other matters connected with it.

2. The Conference to award national student organizations such as the National University of Science, the American University of Democracy, the YWCA, Hilltop Foundation and others 10% representation in the Conference.

3. The organization of the country into thirty regions, each of which will be represented on the NCC; and the resolution in favor of affiliation (Continued on page three)

John M. Hancock To Speak Tonight On Atomic Energy and Its Control

Industrial Banker Worked With Roosevelt, Opposed Atomic Energy Commission

CHAPEL CREDIT GIVEN

John M. Hancock, industrial banker associated with Bernard M. Baruch on various economic undertakings since about the latter's retirement, will discuss "Atomic Energy and Its Control" at a lecture next Tuesday before the International Relations Club, to be held in the chapel of the College.

Co-author of the Baruch-Hancock report, Mr. Hancock spoke at the 1946 Herald Tribune Forum, and has published numerous articles and pamphlets on the problem of atomic control, including an article in the New York Times Magazine. He has served also with Mr. Baruch on various economic investigations, including the FERA survey, and in 1943-1944 on the ad- visory urging the control of atomic energy for the National Security Council. He has long been a member of the New York Bar and has been attending the lectures. At its close, a discussion will be held in the New York Room.

ONE ACT PLAYS MAKE UP LAB THEATRE PROGRAM

The Laboratory Theatre's second bill of plays in its 1946-1947 season will be presented at the Playhouse on January 11 and 14. The program consists of one-act plays from the Irish theatre, chosen by Lord Dun- can, the New York Times drama critic, and written by the Hayes News by Lady Gregory.

Cochran, directed by Renée Solaion, will be as well as known perhaps as Dun- can's plays of fantasy and adventure, and will be produced by a staff under the author's own hand it is a play of beautiful Irish poetry, and semi- theumas. The Irish News, directed by Lord Duncan, will be in contrast to Cochran, well-known and often presented at the Abbey Theatre as early as 1907.

The two plays had surgery to a type of technical demonstration where contrasting methods of technique are used, expressionism for the entire, and realism for Spreading the News. Both sets have been adapted by Mr. Hancock, and are being made by the introductory playshop group. (Continued on page four)
The IVORY TOWER

The statement that Margie Bashop made concerning her impressions of the Chicago Conference merits some serious attention. She said, or in words that echo through the pages of the newspaper, "The conference..."

The event was not mentioned in the news story on the conference, though it may appear later in one of the articles by Margie or Shyke, that the students who were elected to the major offices of the National Council of College Women, which will be held at the University of Illinois during the month, will be given the opportunity to discuss their questions in the capacity of students to get the most from their money, how to stretch their dollars. "We're going to discuss the problem of free speech, of Mr. King's vote, of our attitude towards the war. Unfortunately, we get extremely hungry at 10 P.M., too."

The editor's note is that the Student Action Committee approved the letter in the last issue of the newspaper ordering in reference to the "Time for Action" Committee. From these points we feel very strongly that in the future we will have to make it clear that the report submitted was fairly authentic and that any other statements should be attributed to Alvin Adams.

Beyond the Blue

Mary Lynn Clark struck her note to be heard on the law which allows the use of the forces of the United States to protect foreign countries. She declared that the law is an example of the law in the United States which is not a law for the United States which is not a law for the war. She continued her speech with the following remarks: "I am working on my Ph.D. and have met with the people of the United States. I have been a traveler in the United States and have been working on the problem of the war in the United States."

"All I can say is, working very hard, we are making progress. I have been on the road and have met with the people of the United States."

McNally's note is that he is working as a consultant for the American Peace Movement in the United States. He said that there are many direct actions that can be taken. He mentioned the example of the United States farm movement, which includes the use of the forces of the United States to protect foreign countries. He said that these direct actions can be taken without any legal or political consultation. "The only way to stop the war is to stop the war."

N.S.O. Delegates Speak... Chicago Conference...

Societal function was on. For eight hours we discussed, argued, and sometimes fought, but in the end it seemed that a good agreement was reached. The conference went on for several delegations. Nevada also will supple- ment the N.R.A. Assembly that SIA received a financial support of some sort. At the Mass meeting Wednesday evening they were in Chapin Auditorium, the delegates will again speak. Nevada will also discuss the background and organization of the conference and the details of the major problems that were raised; the organization of the students throughout the country into three regions; and the question of whether or not the N.S.O. should affiliate itself with the International Union of Students, and, if so, in what manner.

Margie will bring up the activities of the N.S.O., and the question of whether or not the conference was dominated by any one group. In ad- dition, she will discuss what the con- ference and the following N.N.I. west to east. Following the meeting, there will be a forum in the Lurie Room of the Y.W.C.A., where Maria Cortez and Mary Turner of the Student Council will speak. All observers, will be on hand to answer questions.

The Y.W.C.A. assembly will be given for an end- trance at the mass meeting.
